A word on Hors Pistes

Hors Pistes is an organisation working in the non-formal education field, founded in 2013, and based in Marseille, France. The name means thinking outside the box, accepting unexpected discoveries and changing perspectives. We work with interculturality in all its forms; sending, hosting and coordinating youth exchanges, volunteering programs, and trainings. We also organise local workshops on this and other relevant topics (group dynamic, conflict management, communication, etc) for varying audiences. Our volunteers are also an active part of our local actions, organising linguistic cafés, constructing their own personal projects, and doing outreach events to raise awareness for youth mobility.
